

ID #	Site Name	Site Location	Image URL/FIN Location	Image Credit	Image Caption	Headline	Historical Profile/First Person Narrative	Citation(s)	Additional Media	Additional Media Caption & Credit
Title Slide	N/A	N/A	http://shd.bnl.gov/060189136	Freedom House Records, Courtesy of Northeastern University Archives and Special Collections	Black Bay Fens, Boston, Mass.	Walking the Emerald Necklace	This is an introduction to the project that will continue on.
Site 1	Black Bay Fens Community Gardens	42.344888, -71.093221	http://shd.bnl.gov/0601890137723	Freedom House Records, Courtesy of Northeastern University Archives and Special Collections	Community garden in Black Bay Fens.	Black Bay	Two men tend community gardens in the Black Bay Fens. A public water fountain can be seen on the left. The Black Bay Fens (also called The Fens, or Fentis) is a freshwater marsh and bogland area within Boston's larger Emerald Necklace park system.			