“I miss my freshman roommate. Her name’s Erin. She transferred after her first year, though, because she didn’t really like her program and wanted to go to BU. Traitor. While it’s disappointing that we don’t get to see each other as much, we still hang out when we can. We hung out all the time together. We were in a lot of the same classes, too, and always studied at the library. But she lives all the way in Brighton and it’s such a long commute. Anyway, when we lived together, we had this goldfish, Stanley. I thought it was going to die, but Erin still has him and apparently he’s thriving. Who knew goldfish could live so long?”
