

Citation Management: Introduction to Zotero

Click to schedule a meeting with the DITI Team

Key Terms and Concepts

- Library: the folders that store your citation lists.
- My library: your individual libraries that can only be edited on your account.
- Group libraries: collaborative libraries.
- Info: the bibliographic information about a particular source.
- Notes: your own notes taken about a source.
- Tags: keywords chosen to organize and arrange sources.
- Scholarly Databases: subscription-based collections of scholarly journals and peer-reviewed articles. Northeastern has access to an array of scholarly databases through the library.
- DOI: unique identifier of scholarly articles, such as 10.2307/358774
- ISBN: unique identifier for books (can be 10 or 13 numbers, such as 978-0809335541)

Helpful Resources

- Download Zotero
- Create a Zotero Account (Note that all data stored in Zotero is saved on your account, not your computer, which means you can access it from anywhere with internet access)